

What kind of government did the Articles of Confederation create? In this activity, you will design a museum exhibit for the Articles of Confederation. The exhibit should clearly highlight both the strengths and weaknesses of the Articles of Confederation. Before you sketch your museum exhibit, use the graphic organizer below to respond to questions.

|--|--|
| How would you describe the type of government created by the Articles of Confederation? | How did the government under the Articles address the needs of the new nation? |
| What were the strengths of the Articles of Confederation? | What objects or images could you use to highlight the strengths of the Articles? Why? |
| What were the weaknesses of the Articles of Confederation? | What objects or images could you use to highlight the Articles' weaknesses? Why? |

In the space provided below, create a sketch of your museum exhibit that highlights the strengths and weaknesses of the Articles of Confederation.
